

Steve Sherman is a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design Accredited Professional Accredited Professional (LEED[®] AP) and has nearly 15 years of experience in middle market commercial banking, senior bank business management, and growth strategy consulting. He was most recently a First Vice President at LaSalle Bank, where he served as a business manager and strategic advisor to Larry Richman, both in his role as President of Commercial Banking and President of LaSalle Bank, putting him at the forefront of the bank's decision-making at a unique time of growth, cost controls and transition. In that role, he helped develop and execute the growth and cost-containment plans for the bank through improving front and back office processes, enhancing cross-sell, developing and tracking financial metrics, and aligning employee incentives. He also assisted with the commercial client integration of LaSalle Bank and Bank of America. Mr. Sherman also began his career at LaSalle in Commercial Banking, as a loan officer and relationship manager for middle-market commercial customers in Chicago. Prior to returning to LaSalle, he worked as a Consultant at The Cambridge Group, a consumer brand strategy consultancy, and at Baxter Healthcare Corporation in Strategy and Business Development.

Mr. Sherman holds a Master of Business Administration degree from the Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University and a Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics and Music from Stanford University. He has been involved in a number of community organizations including the Emergency Fund, a Chicago-area non-profit (Board Member and Past President of the Associate Board), The Latin School of Chicago (Past member of the Board of Trustees), and Roadworks Productions (Past Board Member).
